

Surely

A BALLAD

WORDS
by

Geo. B. MOORE

MUSIC
by

MAURICE SPYER

5

Published by the COLUMBIA MUSIC CO.
ST. LOUIS, MO.

Copyright 1900. Geo. B. Moore.

Respectfully Dedicated to _____ Miss May Osborne _____
Peoria, Ills. _____

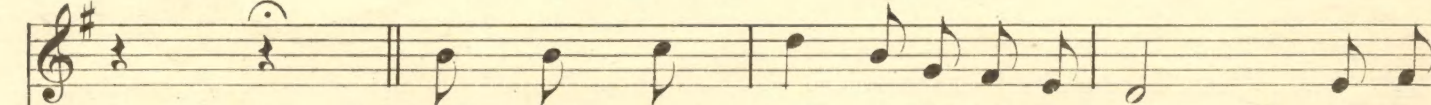

3

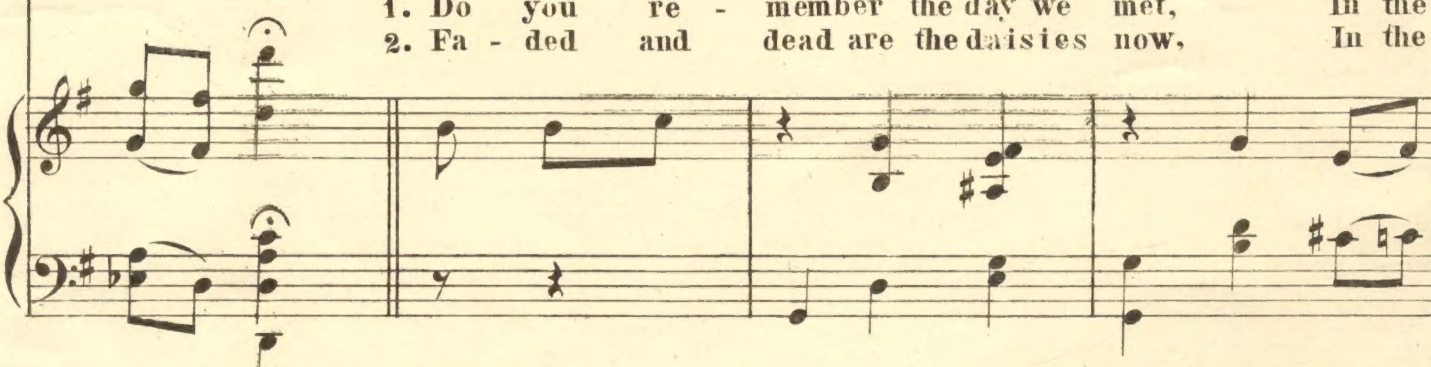

S · U · R · E · L · Y .

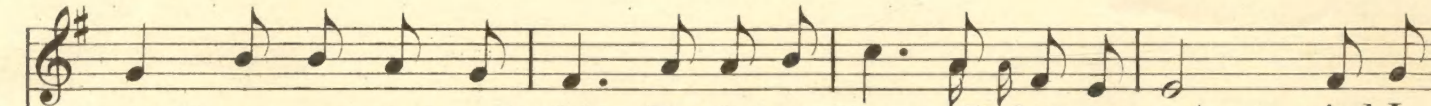

Words by Geo. B. Moore. Music by Maurice Spyer.

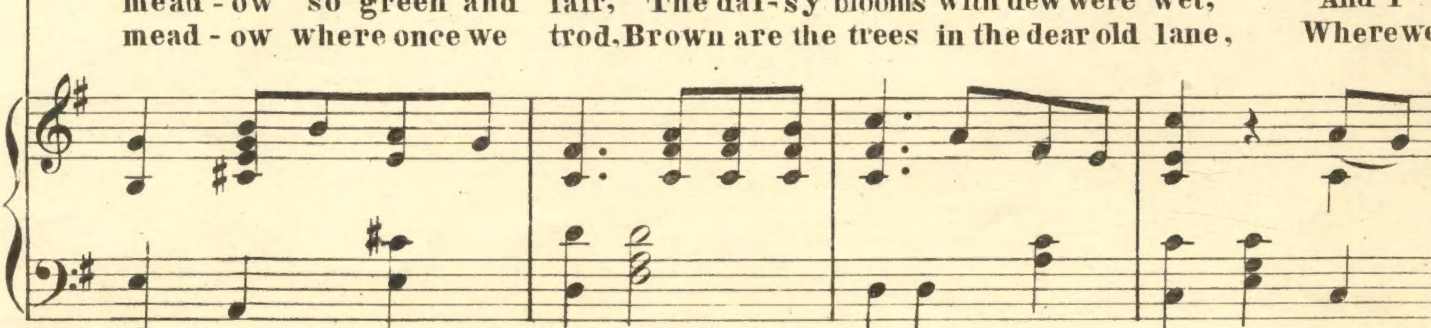

Voice.

Piano Moderato con espressione.

1. Do you re - member the day we met, In the
2. Fa - ded and dead are the daisies now, In the mead - ow so green and fair, The dai - sy blooms with dew were wet, And I mead - ow where once we trod. Brown are the trees in the dear old lane, Where we Copyright mdecce by Geo. B. Moore.

pluck'd some for your hair? Do you re - mem - ber the vows we gathered the gol - den rod. But true as then is my love for made, We promised we'd both be true, Do you re - you, As it was long, long a - go, I read my rall.

colla voce.

call some - thing you said? Surely you do, surely you do.
an - swer in your eyes so blue, Surely you know, surely you know.

a tempo.

rall.

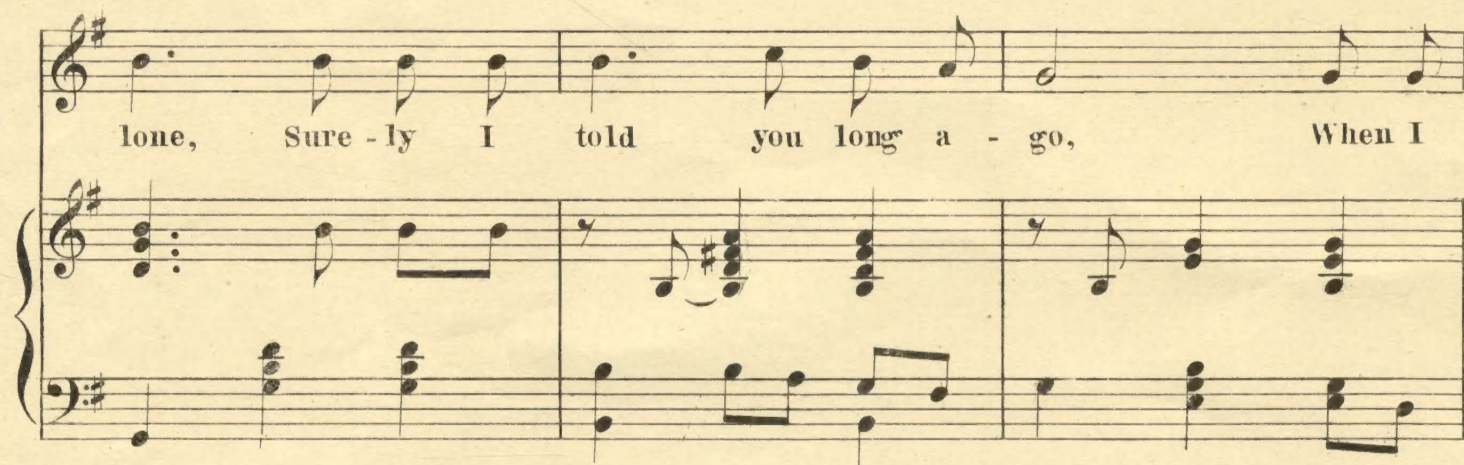

rall.

Moderato. — Chorus. —

Surely you know, surely you know my heart is yours a - lone, Sure - ly I told you long a - go, When I asked you to be my own. My hearts the same as 'twas that day, Time can - not change it now, I know, Ex - cept I love you more each day, Sure - ly you know, sure - ly you know.

Surely.

Surely.

